ABOUT ME

I am a passionate full-stack developer with hands-on experience in large-scale programs within 1+ year experience and collaborative projects. I have worked with diverse teams, managing complex tasks from concept to launch, and I thrive on solving real-world problems through technology. Now, I am focused on building impactful startups that automate daily services and empower local communities. I value clean design, modern user experiences, and practical solutions. Motivated, adaptable, and eager to learn — I love bringing ideas to life with code and teamwork.
